

Re: Telephone Privacy Laws, & specifically Indiana's. If a Federal law is implemented, it should not diminish any provisions of any pre-existing (or subsequent) state laws. The Indiana statute has significantly improved the quality of life for me & my family. We no longer waste time answering calls from people trying to sell us things we absolutely have no interest in. We have NEVER purchased anything from a phone soliciter. In the past we typically had 1 or more daily calls, now we can go weeks without a call. We want that to continue!
